Samuel Moody was the first Master of Dummer Academy, which opened on March 1, 1763 under the will of the Lieutenant Governor William Dummer. A Board of Trustees was directed to found a school on the Dummer farm to prepare young men to become leaders in the American colonies. The school became Governor Dummer Academy in 1929 at the insistence of newly appointed Headmaster Edward W. Eames. The school continues in the hands of the Board which is responsible to make general school policy and appoint a Headmaster to carry out policy. We are fortunate to have a generous, hardworking, dedicated Board which has optimistic visions for the school's future.

Dedication

- A celebration of friendship. -

During the 225th year of the Academy we have all become more aware than ever of the value of friendships. Friendliness welcomes the new students as well as the returning veterans; gives the crisp days of autumn more zest; makes winter days more bearable; and encourages us to share the joy of spring with others.

At Governor Dummer there is none more remarkable for friendliness than the person who greets almost all of us by name every day. A greeting for all is great, but praise or sympathy, comments and inquiries into our joys and problems are beyond expectation. For her interest and concern for each and every member of the Governor Dummer community, we respectfully dedicate The 1988 MILESTONE to our great friend -

Doris Marsolais

By His Excellency

MICHAEL S. DUKAKIS

Governor

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: March 1, 1988 marks the two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Governor Dummer Academy in Newbury by Governor William Dummer in 1763; and

WHEREAS: From its modest beginnings under the competent direction of its first headmaster Samuel Moody, the academy has continued over the years to instill in its student body a profound respect for the democratic ideals that shaped the events of that age and established a free and independent America; and

WHEREAS: This venerable institution is proud of its long, celebrated history of prominent headmasters, scholars and distinguished alumni who have gone on to become leaders at every level of society and continue to promote the lessons and values of the academy to promoting the cause of liberty; and

WHEREAS: Today, Governor Dummer Academy adheres to its long tradition of excellence, preparing its students to serve their communities and the commonwealth

NOW, THEREFORE, I, MICHAEL S. DUKAKIS, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby honor and commend and urge the citizens of the Commonwealth to take cognizance of this event and to participate fittingly in its observance.

Given at the Executive Chamber in Boston, this twenty-first day of February, one thousand nine hundred and eighty-eight and of the Independence of the United States of America, two hundred and twelfth.

MICHAEL S. DUKAKIS

By His Excellency the Governor

Secretary of the Commonwealth

GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

There was cause for celebration on three occasions when The Trustees voted to admit young women. The first came during the headmastership of The Reverend Ebenezer Parsons in 1872. Under the supervision of Mrs. Parsons a number of young ladies graduated before the program was terminated. A second attempt to install young women came in 1897 when as many as twenty-one females matriculated under Headmaster Perley Horne. Again the program was shortlived. In 1971, The Trustees directed the headmaster, Valleau Wilkie, to try once again. A substantial number of enthusiastic female teachers have given the girls support and role models in a once male dominated institution. This time, the addition of females seems to be permanent as the girls have taken to every aspect of school life. This year, Lisa Sweeney became the first of her sex to be elected by the student body to President of the Student Government. Sweeney and Kris Fowler were named All American Field Hockey players. Cindy Draper is the fourth woman to serve as Editor or Co-Editor of the yearbook. Women have held numerous other positions of leadership in academic, athletic, and extracurricular activities in the modern era of women on campus. Governor Dummer has truly become a coeducational institution.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 29, 1988

I am pleased to send warm greetings to all those gathered for the 225th Anniversary Founder's Day Celebration of Governor Dummer Academy.

Governor Dummer Academy has prepared many young people to be productive and moral citizens and to assume leadership roles vital to the survival and the progress of our country. Founded in 1763, the academy graduated 15 members of the Continental Congress and many others who fought in our Revolution.

You can take great pride in your rich tradition. From the beginning, our Nation has relied on schools like yours to provide our youth with a well-rounded education that equips them for life -- personal, professional and civic. By maintaining quality in your school, you have helped your students become accomplished adults with a keen appreciation of our history and a deep dedication to building a better and stronger America.

Nancy joins me in sending our congratulations and best wishes for continued success in the years ahead. God bless you.

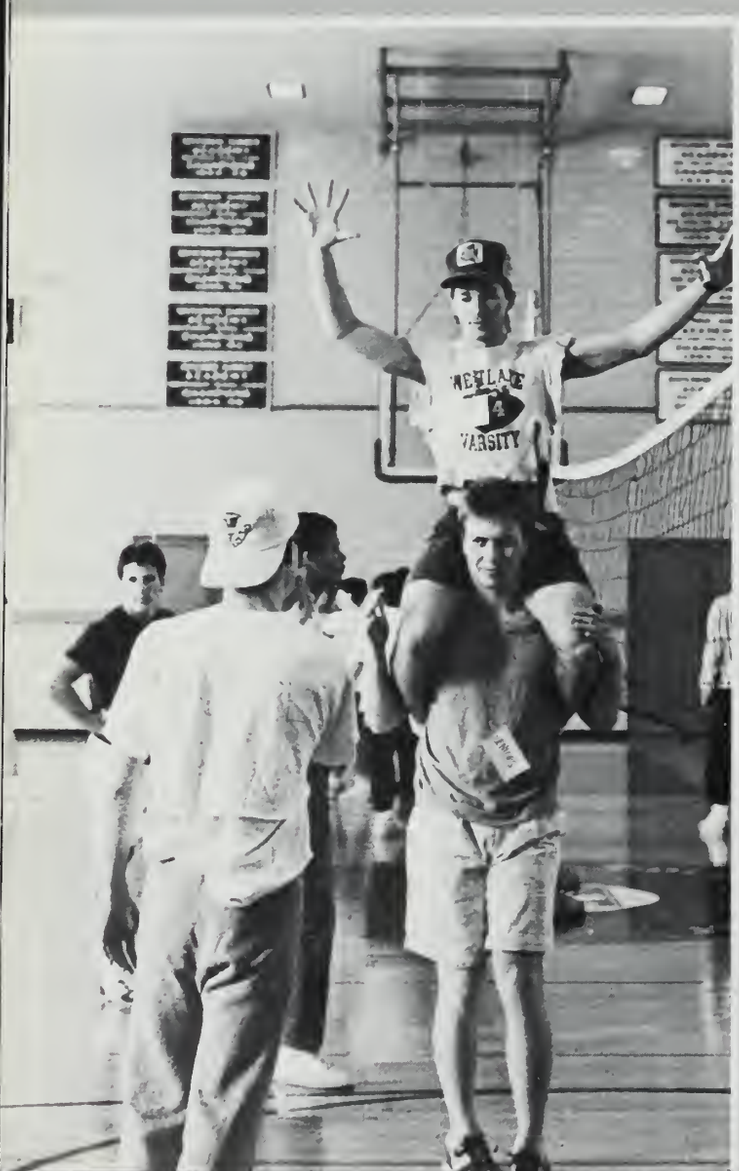
One for the Freshmen!

Runners-up for the 1988 GDA Beauty Pageant!

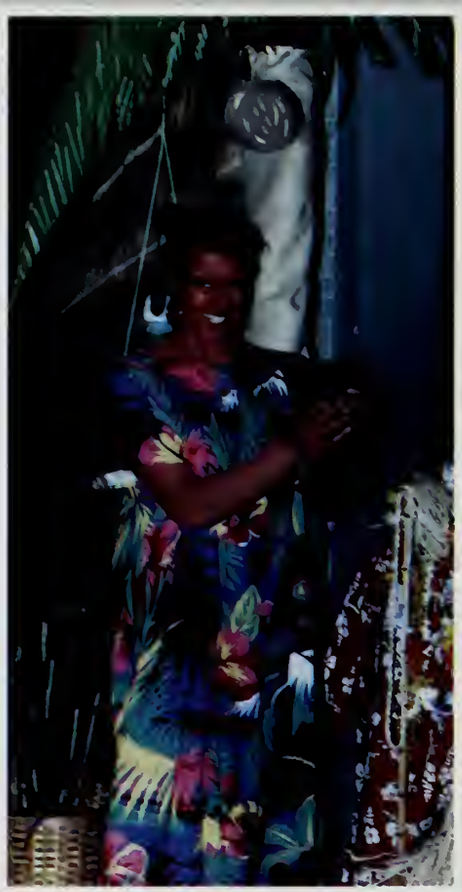


GDA: The thrill of victory . . .
Opponent: . . . and the agony of defeat.

The 225th Founder's Day Celebration held March 1, 1988 was attended by the students, faculty, alumni, alumnae, parents, and friends of the Academy. The day-long festivities included a Service of Celebration and Rededication at the Moseley Chapel, with a speech by Massachusetts Lt. Governor Evelyn Murphy, symposium focusing on independent school education for the next 25 years, discussion and lectures by the faculty, tours, exhibits, concerts, a luncheon and a gala banquet which featured songs by the Alumni Glee Club, a film picturing 225 years at the Academy and speeches by the Headmaster, President of the Board of Trustees, alumni and alumnae, and fireworks.

Now, let's get on with the show!

Happiness is . . .



. . . not having to dissect that fuzzy worm today.
. . . selling a shrunken head.
. . . going for a twenty mile jog.
. . . having a wicked forehead.
. . . prepping for female political campaign.
. . . dreaming of spring training.
. . . Kori.
. . . a copy machine that works.
. . . an intimate luncheon for two.
. . . anonimity.
. . . a midwinter California admissions trip.
. . . a successful performance.
. . . contemplating a performance.
. . . watching a performance - successful or not.
. . . a check on ski conditions.

No class today, guys, it's ski day!

This has been a special year. Yet, it was a year like many others. New students arrived and made their mark; others will before the end of their stay. We met new teachers and said goodbye to others. Plans for the future excite those who remain, while we who leave wish that which is to come was already here. With final deadlines met, we feel relief the job is done - happy with our work, anxious about the future. Enjoy, live full lives and remember your school.

So, you insisted we take your picture. What now?

FOUR SEASONS

Smiling faces strange places. It was fall and we were freshman. It was all new to us. Discoveries were made and friends were close. So young, so naive, so impressionable. We had so much growing to do.

Winter was long and tedious but as sophomores we thought we were so wise. Thought we knew it all. It was the time for laughter and happiness. Our minds, morals, and character were all strengthened. We matured and became different people with a new insight.

Frisbees flying and voices hurling. Everyone knew it was Spring. What a year! A new identity. We learned who we were, what we wanted and we all played the college game. Life long friends had been made and we all depended on each other . . . . . .

..... Yet time was short. Summer has been long but gone so fast. We're seniors now. We came here children and will leave as adults. The changes that we've all undergone are remarkable. We now leave you the year at its end, the change completed. We will leave not only with aspirations for the future but also with the memories we've all shared and will never forget. Truly cherished times and friends will always be held close at heart; yet another four seasons is calling.

Life's Rich Pageant

Good times, bad times
All part of life's rich pageant.
We return, fresh from a fruitful summer,

. . . . . We strive for victory on the sports field.
We dance, sing, and act, sometimes seriously,
Sometimes just for fun, always for enjoyment.
Work restricts us but not our individuality.
It is necessary and will prove rewarding.
When graduation comes around, we'll feel sad-
That's natural.
We'll miss what we've left behind
Most of all, our friends.
But just remember they're the most Fascinating part of life's rich pageant-
Don't say goodbye, just "LATER"

UNDERCLASSMEN

The Junior class (89 members; 53 boys; 36 girls; 29 day students; 60 boarders) are a diverse collection of spirited students who contribute in all aspects of academy life.

Many Juniors' names appear consistently on both the High Honor Roll and Honor Roll list. Top scholars include Adam Barton, Rick Fox, Young Shin and Scott Singer.

The Visual and Performing Arts Program are fortified by the talented efforts of Juniors. Among these students are Preston Beach, Nate Broehl, Keri Fantasia, Mariah Lilly, Todd Seeley, Scott Singer, Sepp Spenlinhauer, and Michael Todd.

On the athletic fields more Juniors are competing on the Varsity level. The class is able to boast of several fine athletes including Kristen Casazza, Jess Cowles, Lisa Hernandez, Eric LaCroix, Kevin Lydon, Bob Pierce and Amy Russell.

The Class of '89 has demonstrated true devotion in the past and is eagerly awaiting the future when they will lead the academy as Seniors.

Juniors

In the fall, the class of 1990 doubled as 42 new students entered GDA. As a class, they show talent in all fields ranging from academics, where Matt Crowe received a high honor grade point average, to the stage where eleven Sophomores had roles in the fall theater performance. The Sophomore class has also proven its talents on the athletic teams with over 30% of the class playing at the varsity level. Fifteen Sophomores were members of New England Prep School Championship Teams. Those students being Emily Pearl, Holly Stern, Margo Doyle, Kerry Campbell, Liz Shea, Danielle Kealler, Stacy Budnick, and Shannon Davenport (team MVP) on the Varsity Women's Soccer Team. Nick Vachon, Shaun Toomey, Mike Yeagley (Class President), Alex Moody, Andy Baird, Brendan Daly, and Steve Speichinger were on the Varsity Men's Hockey Team.

The Sophomores matured while they learned more about each other and formed closer friendships. The class leaders President Mike Yeagley, Vice-President Nikki Fardy, Secretary Kathryn DiNanno, Boarder Representative Kyrie Stevens, and Day Student Representative Alex Pinsky have worked hard to obtain a greater class unity. Sophomores are eager to accept the responsibilities and challenges that will follow in the coming years.

To say that the Freshmen came together as "one" is an understatement. To say that this is the closest Freshmen class in years is more realistic.

From the beginning of Leadership Weekend, everyone and anyone was treated as a friend of many years. Although the last day of that special weekend was full of weather mishaps, we all worked together. Some day students were even nice enough to let boarders go home with them. The high feeling that this weekend provided was one packed with new friendships.

My outlook on the weekend was similar to most of the other Freshmen's opinions. We all felt very "out of place", but, fortunately, we all seemed to adapt easily because of the warm, friendly atmosphere. From that point on, each Freshmen radiated emotions of friendship almost as if they were second nature. It was easy to say "Hi" to everyone!

Ironically, the usual maturity problem which most Freshmen possess was not present this year. It was as common to hear praise from upperclassmen as it was for us to praise them. It was easier to act friendly and not inferior when a Senior walked by us with a smile.

Yes, to label the Freshmen class as "one" is quite an understatement, yet, to say that this class showed maturity, modesty, kindness, leadership, and, most importantly, love, is more accurate. This Freshmen class will be one of the greatest in history!

FALL SPORTS

Capt. Lisa Sweeney with Coach Karin.

Field Hockey

We had a remarkable season with just one loss, six wins and six ties. The team was indeed relentless. In one of our toughest games, our defense did not allow St. Georges to get a single shot on goal!

Strong performances came from MVP's Kristen Fowler and Lisa Sweeney. Not only were they elected to the All League Team, but also to the All American Field Hockey Team. All League Honorable Mentions went to Michelle LaFlamme and Lisa Hernandez. Another strong performance came from goalie Nancy Hough. In her thirteen games she had eight shutouts, proving how talented she and the team's defense really were.

The team would not have been so successful without the fine coaching of Mary Ellen Karin and Ms. Clark. Ms. Clark's enthusiasm gave the players the boost needed to put out the extra effort at crucial times during the season.

Field Hockey 87' will always remember the sore muscles of pre-season, bowling escapades, the dreaded thirty second drills, the second win in GDA history over St. Georges and practice in the snow. Good luck to next year's team led by captain-elect Cate MacLachlan and kick some B.H.A.!

Final Record: 7-2-3

The Women's Varsity Soccer team had a great season due to hard work, determination, and a lot of fun. The countless hours of training and dedication endured were crucial to the team's success.

Co-captains, Petica Barry and Heather Moore led the team from a previous 2-11 record to a complete turnaround of an 11-2 record. Some of the highlights of the season were the 2-2 tie against Exeter, the 0-0 tie against Middlesex and of course the 3-2 victory over Brooks.

Team MVP Shannon Davenport and tourney MVP Courtney Seed were both named to the All League Team as well as the Newburyport Daily News All Star Team. Both players were also elected co-captains for next year's team. Strong performances came from All League Honorable Mention Regina Glanzberg and forwards Liz Shea and Stacey Budnick. Seniors included: forwards Rebecca Angell and Jill Packard; halfbacks Carrie Walton, Dianne Solomon and Heather Moore; fullbacks Erin Saunders, Regina Glanzberg and Petica Barry.

The season ended on an exciting note as the team played its best game of the season against Vermont Academy in the semi-finals. They triumphed with a 6-2 victory and then went onto their final game of the season. They travelled to Lawrence Academy with carloads of spectators on the coldest day of the season to bring home the New England Championship trophey for 1987. Only this team will know exactly how it was done.

What can be said about the 1987 Men's cross-country team that doesn't convey what a boffo good time we had? From the very first Rambo fartlek it was evident that this was a team with purpose, talent, and determination. Led by captain Cabot Orton, a merry band of rebels took on insuperable odds and strode away victorious. Nothing that Abu conjured up could deter this veteran group from having an outrageously enjoyable season, and the resulting 10-2 record (the best since 1973) merely proved that winning can actually be fun. The awesome might and skill of guys like Ace, Fingers, Singe, Styles, Luke, Adamo, Gardie, and Zabber carried the team into triumph time and time again. Unfortunately, it didn't manage to carry Abu all the way to the Parker River, but such is life. The New England Championships, held on our own beloved course, will go down in history as the snowiest, slipperiest, and most insane competition ever to occur at G.D.A. The things we did and the times we had are simply unforgettable. In future years, perhaps runners here at the Academy will be able to look back and see that 1987 was the year cross-country had it all.

Men's Soccer

MVP's Josh Davenport and Kevin Lydon.

The 1987 Men's Soccer team went into the season with a very positive attitude. The leadership of the returning players and the enthusiasm of the new members maintained this optimism during a season plagued with injuries and hard luck.

New Assistant Coach Nelson displayed his athletic ability in practice keeping up the players' competitiveness and drive. The addition of new drills such as "Bustere" and "!@*!!" increased the sometimes lacking endurance.

The outbursts and back flips of Al Moody caused some disturbances to the coach but they usually inspired the team. The abundance of yellow and red cards hurt the team at times but they truly indicated the team's take-charge enthusiasm and "intestinal fortitude." The duo of Lydon and McLoy proved to be one of the quickest forward tandems in the league. Captain Matt Caron's solid mental attitude and aggressive play owned the defensive end of the field.

The highlight of the year was of course beating Brooks 2-0 at home and bringing back the Navins' Cup. Although the 5-6-4 record season proved to be a tough year on the field the team had fun and really worked hard. We wish better luck to next year's team.

Captain Matt Caron receives Navins' Cup on behalf of team.

Football

Improved With Team Effort

Although small in size, the varsity football squad displayed memorable talent and enthusiasm throughout a rigorous and demanding season. Considerable effort and indefatigable determination proved worthwhile, overshadowing early difficulties that had threatened to rend the team's performance disappointing. Dominating the field in pride and spirit, the team rose to achieve their best record in three years.

This year the team was led by senior co-captains David Dunwell and John Khantzian, both well respected in the league after four years of strong competition. David, who in the St. Mark's game gained 100 yards, provided the team with the motivation and spirit it demanded in its struggle against formidable opponents. John commanded a key position on the team, and was considered by many to be the top quarterback in the ISL. Both John and David will be remembered in their absence as two of the finest players the Academy has seen in recent years.

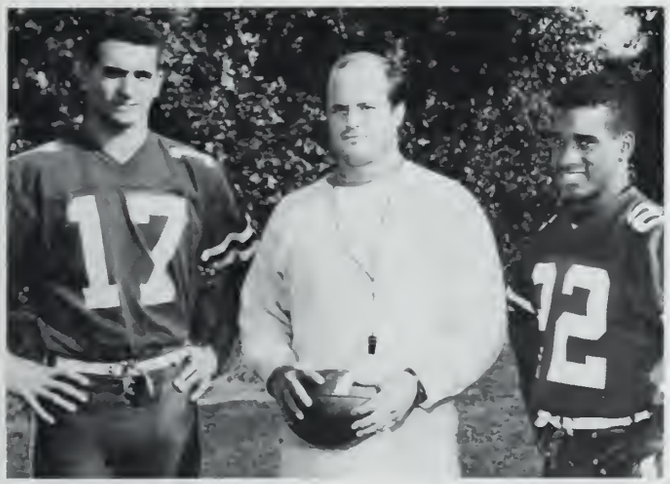
Captains John Khantzian and Dave Dunwell with Coach Scheidegger.



There will also be many spaces to fill next year with the loss of seniors Andy Rybicki, Chris Dennison, Ted Smith, Tony D'Orazio, Kurston Burns, Joe Bailey, and Dan Morison. However, enough talent remains in Boomer Moore, Matt Pascucci, Matt Downing, Tom Plante, Brian Arrington, John Kocis, Bob Pierce, and Rob Zartarian to carry the team to success next year.

Time after time, game after game, varsity football gave strong and consistent effort on the field. Although such efforts did not always prove fruitful on the record, they did go to augment qualities of the team that mere statistics sometimes belie. Adamant in spirit, through difficult practices and grueling competition, the team suffered the occasional discouragements only to rise above defeat and shine as true victors.

Volleyball this winter started out a little shaky. The final record was five wins and six losses which was satisfactory to enter the final A.I.S.G.A. tournament. In this tournament, the G.D.A. girls had to play their two strongest opponents, Milton and B.B.&N. They fought through the preliminaries and made it to the final match, which was played against Milton. After three games Milton came out ahead, yet the G.D.A. girls' morale and excitement was enough to make them proud of their efforts. After a tough season they brought home a second place trophy. Not bad! This small team, composed of new and young players, along with four returning Seniors worked hard and played their best when they were down. Good job girls!

Women's Basketball

Coach Childs with Captain Kris Fowler.

The women's varsity basketball team, was a team of strengths and weaknesses. Their captain, Kris Fowler, dominated her team both offensively and defensively. Her always positive attitude gave the struggling team the inspiration to keep fighting. Although this team, of eleven, had a tough season statistically, 5-10, it doesn't show the real story. For example, the game against Brooks, in which GDA won 47-43, showed the team at its best.

The game was dominated offensively by Fowler and Regina Glanzburg, two seniors, who scored 20 and 15 points, respectively. Defensively, Tonya Kovach exploded on the boards, taking down 13 rebounds. Other outstanding players were, Jill Packard, Alyssa Huber, and freshman Catherine Tuthill. It was a game where it all came together.

All-League player, Fowler led the team with a total of 224 points for the season. Losing Fowler will hamper, but with Coach Childs hard on the case, the team will be whipped into shape and ready for another season.

MVP Kris Fowler.

The balanced attack was led by captains John Khantzian and Carlos Perez. Each member of the starting team averaged in double digit scoring per game, while Bob Foster and Don Conley controlled the boards inside, collecting many rebounds.

The newly installed three point line turned out to be an advantage for the Govs. Khantzian, Bob Pierce and Jason McLoy were the team's downtown threat.

Next year will be a very challenging season. We wish Coach Metz and the team the best of luck in continuing the tradition of strong basketball at GDA.

This year G.D.A. wrestling surpassed all previous levels of mellowness by foregoing the usual habit of wearing warm-ups. Wearing identical clothing and running and yelling in sync is great for an army but not needed for fun, successful high school wrestling! Our special ability to be casual, individual people and still wrestle intensely is the one great edge that G.D.A. wrestling has!

However, practices are, by far, the most dreaded hours of the winter for wrestlers - hence, the familiar phrase, "Thank you, sir, may I have another?". Just to be safe, there was always a sacred bucket nearby into which one could blow his lunch. The evil master-mind of practices for this, his third year, was none other than Mr. James "Kojak-I almost lost a point once" Scheidegger, and his cohort, Mr. Albert "No, you idiot" Finn.

The season was one of youth and injuries, with freshman comprising half of the team and, at times, a dozen people were injured. Even so, they managed to wrestle very well, losing several meets by only a few points. The seniors all had a fun time due to the antics of their spiritual leader, Paul "Flex-Where's the beach?" Whynott. His fellow seniors were

Other team standouts included Pat "Dr. bus ride" Riley, Dave "Mad Dog" Smith, and, of course, Jason "BIG" Uttam, along with many others.

In the Christmas Tournament, the team came away with a first place finish by Jon Morisseau (119), a second place by Paul Whynott (177), and two third place finishes by Hyun Ri Shin (112), and Matt Moore (Uni). In the Graves-Kelsey Tournament, Jon Morisseau took second, Hyun Ri Shin took fourth, Paul Whynott took fifth, and Pat Riley (140) and Matt Moore each took sixth. Paul Whynott and Hyun Ri Shin also placed fifth in the New England Prep Tourney.

To future generations of wrestlers: Keep working hard, having fun, and making G.D.A. wrestling have the best and most unique character of any team around!

Women's Varsity Ice Hockey thrived in it's 87-88 season. The team consisted of twenty-one girls who showed much dedication to the team and enjoyed it as well. They were greatly supported by their coach, Linda Bromley, assistant Coach McDonnell, senior coach Jed Mixter, and the team's co-captains Julie Miller and Heidi Danielson. Although the team's record was not outstanding, the team most certainly took some big strides from the 86-87 season. Seniors, Miller, Danielson, Rebecca Angell, Erica Sayewich, Kara Moheban, Charity Lambardi, Heather Hendrix, Michelle LaFlamme, Jenny Petchek, and MVP goalie Shawn Gager led many of the younger members of the team toward promising careers. The victory over Brooks at the home rink proved to be a satisfactory farewell for all of the seniors.

Michelle LaFlamme's quickness on the ice helped on the defense as well as on the offense. Shawn Gager's brilliant saves in goal and leading scorer Jessica Cowles' intimidating wrist shot helped the team in times of despair. Co-captains-elect Carrie O'Keefe and Kristin Casazza will boldy lead next year's women's Varsity Ice Hockey Team to an even stronger season.

This year's Men's Ice Hockey team finished the season with a sterling record of 29 and 6. After coming off of four straight losses to Nobles, Milton, Thayer, and St. Marks, the team rallied to crush Buckingham Browne and Nichols. Playing much weaker competition tended to cause the team to "go through the motions", but they held on to overpower St. George's and Groton. The Christmas Tourney soon arrived, and the Governors played some of their best team hockey. They advanced to the finals by demolishing Portledge School and then playing good up-and-down hockey against Holderness. Another close game against St. Sacrement found G.D.A. again behind the eight ball. They lost the tourney, but had finally found themselves.

The Gov's then picked up the pace and beat St. Paul's (one of their best performances of the year). Berwick, Middlesex, and Rivers also fell to G.D.A. In their sixth game against division one opponents, the team played another good up-and-down team game to beat St. Sebastians. Roxbury Latin, Brooks, and St. Georges all followed suit, as did Groton, Rivers, and Middlesex (again). St. Marks welcomed Governor Dummer to another grudge match, but this time, G.D.A. came out victorious, playing a great defensive game. The I.S.L. Championship was in sight, as long as the Governors could stay together to beat Roxbury Latin and Brooks; and they did. G.D.A. was co-champs of the Eberhardt League!!

The New Englands was the next mountain to climb, and G.D.A. was again ranked first. The team beat St. Georges again in the first round, and then played another great, hard-hitting game to beat Holderness. They found themselves in the finals, again! This time, they would not be denied. The team's hard work ethic shined in this contest, the last one of the season, as the Gov's beat Gunnery 7-3 to win the Division Two Prep School New England Championship!!! Congrats guys, you earned it!

Seniors Matt Caron (c), Andy Noel, Chris D'Orio (c), Martin Lacroix, Wayne Belleau, Paul Bucci, Dave Walor, Dave Hanlon, and Mark (Wheels) Edwards will be very hard to replace for Coach "P".

Fortunately, Derek Sullivan, Kevin Lydon, Erik Lacroix, Al Moody, Nick Vachon, Andy Baird, Shaun Toomey, Mike Yeagley, Brendan Daly, Steve Speichinger, Steve Jewkes, and Brian Novelline will be returning to propel the team to the top of the Keller Division next season. Good luck next year guys!!

The snow came right on time for the 1987-88 season: twenty-four hours before the first meet. For the many new skiers it was to be baptism by fire upon Middlesex's icey woodland slopes. They fared well however, and veteran skier Amy Russell once again set the standard for women's Nordic Skiing.

It was a definite rebuilding year with only two returning skiers and five inexperienced freshmen. Under leadership of coaches White and Degan, the team soon unified. New friendships were formed and old ones strengthened. There was a definite comraderie felt and it no longer became a matter of winning or losing, but simply having fun.

It turned out to be a season none of us would ever forget, even if we tried. (Remember Concord Country Club, Golf Course hills, water skiing in the lower feels . . . waxing room . . . pizza party . . . Jacob Marley's . . . lost soles . . . broken poles . . . the day the girls got revenge . . . royal wave . . . the last meet . . . "Is that Alexis screaming?" and FUN CLUB!)

Good luck next year!

It was a banner season for this year's Varsity Golf Team. We were undefeated throughout the regular season in our league. We also won the ISL Championships played at Dedham Polo and Country Club on May 23 and the Witherspoon Cup.

There were many strong performances from this year's team members. Jim Sullivan one of the team's co-captains won the individual title of ISL Champion at Dedham Country Club with a 76. Jim and Jason Twoomey battled at the one and two spot all season, and both were strong during the matches. Jason is one of two returners for next year's team. Dave Walor came on strong this year moving up the ladder and finishing the season at number three.

J. B. Burgess, the other co-captain, had some tough challenge matches, but we could always count on him when we needed to. Rookie Dan Nadeau played for his first season in the ISL, and will be the only other returner to next year's team. Arvid Swanson struggled for most of the season, but finished strong with an 81 at ISL's and a 79 in the final round of the Witherspoon Cup. The team was rounded out by Todd O'Brien and Bill Osgood at the seven and eight spot. Both Todd and Bill were consistent throughout the season.

There were many seniors on this year's golf team, and the team will have to go through a few years of rebuilding. We won all there is to win this season, and we all had fun.

The Governor Dummer Men's tennis Team saw many new faces at the varsity level during the 88' season. Newcomers Shaun Toomey, Dave Corbett, Doug Fluke, and Charlie Harris all strongly contributed to the program. Hyun Young Shin's and Carlos Brockmann's much improved play helped them to earn a spot on the '88 line-up as well. David Hanlon, a three year veteran, won many key sets for the team, and, eventually, proved to be an invaluable asset. Chris D'Orio, a four year player and three year captain, also played extremely well, leading his team through tense matches.

Mr. Rowe could not have been happier with this bunch of guys, as he once said, "They are much better than I expected, and are one of the best groups I've ever had." More than just an avid tennis coach, Mr. Rowe has taught the players not only how to drive to the front of the court, but he has also taught them how to drive themselves in life while being friendly along the way. Keep up the great work coach! Good luck next year team!

The 1988 women's tennis season was fun and exciting. We had a pretty good season with both wins and losses. Even though we didn't do that well all the time, we had lots of fun trying!

Senior Co-Captains Jill Packard and Deana Giamette provided leadership for the 1st and 4th positions. Newcomers to the team Rebecca Baker and Stacy Budnick took the 2nd and 3rd positions. Jody Packard and Mary Beth Childs were solid in the 5th and 6th positions. Nancy Hough and Lindsey Curley made up the 3rd double's team. The first double's team was Jill and Stacy, and the second Rebecca and Deana. Coach Childs did an excellent job supporting the team all season. We had a good season all around.

Coaches Ruhl and Brough and MVP Kara Moheban

Captains Anne Weitzman and Kara Moheban with Coach Ruhl and Coach Brough.

The 1988 Women's Lacrosse Team will be remembered for it's positive spirit and determination during a tough rebuilding year. The team started off the season with hard fought ties to Pingree and Milton, and a victory over St. George's (a win that will be long remembered). Each girl put heart and soul into every game as Governor Dummer quickly became a threat in the Independent School League. The offense provided most of the scoring, with co-captains Anne Weitzman and Kara Moheban scoring a combined total of eighty-five goals. With veteran Coach Ruhl and newcomer Mrs. Brough, the team was encouraged to play an aggressive game.

Though the final record does not indicate a successful season, this '88 team showed a tremendous amount of sportsmanship and camaraderie. The nine seniors will remember memories of the close bonds formed long after the pain incurred by losing fades. Moreover, this team will never forget beating Brooks! Best of luck to the '89 team!

The Academy Prize

Upon the retirement of Headmaster Edward W. Eames in 1959, the underclassmen of the Academy endowed the already existing Academy Prize so that henceforth at each Commencement it could be given "in Honor of Edward W. and Eleanor K. Eames so that the qualities they so deeply prized might be prized in turn by future and succeeding classes."

The GDA Honor Society, The Big Sister Organization, Social Committee, Community Council, Tour Guide, Yearbook Staff, Red Key Service Organization, a Term of Service at the Harbor School, Student Union Proctor and Discipline Committee — How can one individual do so much always serving other people? During her three years at the Academy she always stepped into any situation to better the community. Whatever she contributed in formal recognized situations was equaled by her informal contributions to peers and to adults in the community. Integrity, sensitivity, and genuine care permeate all her activities.

Her English teacher commented in April, "She knows no other way than to give her best." This captures her approach to all challenges. She has been an Honor Roll student throughout her career at the Academy while taking a demanding load. The same spirit penetrated her athletic activity: captain of JV Field Hockey, captain of JV Ice Hockey and then a member of the varsity and one of the top varsity lacrosse players in the league. On the field she is lightning quick, graceful, entrancing, and, above all, fearless.

On the way to the Academy Prize she earned the Whittemore Award her sophomore year and the Columbia Book Prize her junior year for that student whose actions best exemplify the school motto, "Not for self but for other" — Those words sum up the approach of this year's recipient of the Academy Prize.

Kara Robyn Moheban

There are two prizes awarded by vote of the entire faculty: one is the Morse Flag and the other is the Academy Prize.

The Morse Flag

The Morse Flag was first awarded 74 years ago at the 159th Commencement of this school on June 9, 1913, and it has been awarded each year since that time to the senior whose record in all respects has met with the highest approval of the faculty.

The recipient of this year's Morse Flag seems to be guided by the Dummer family motto, "With true courage nothing is impossible." Wherever she has surfaced over four years she has exhibited tenacity, enthusiasm, and effectiveness. Her accomplishments begin with academic highest honors taking accelerated courses such as Honors German V and Honors Pre-Calculus. Last year she was one of nine juniors selected by the faculty to be inducted into the GDA Honor Society. Her membership in the Honor Society resulted from her service in Student Government, The Red Key Service Organization, as a Tour Guide for the Admissions Office, as a proctor for the French Building, in the Big Sister Organization, and the Social Committee. And there is more: She founded the peer leadership program through which seniors are trained to guide freshmen.

She has played varsity field hockey for two years after having been captain of the JV; she was a stalwart on varsity volleyball and provided her finest performance in the New England Tournament, and she has been superb in varsity tennis for four years.

Irresistible, constructive, effervescent - not just her accomplishments, but the manner with which she succeeds creates a lasting impact on all she touches. Her most recent project was primarily a student directed program to keep the campus clean next year, and next year's seniors have already met to plan the guidance of next year's freshmen when the Morse Flag winner of 1988 will be off at college.

The Thorndike Hilton Cup

The Thorndike Hilton Cup was established by the Class of 1919 in memory of their classmate, Thorndike Hilton. It is awarded each year to the ranking scholar in the Senior Class.

The education of each of us is not a competitive enterprise, although much in American culture today seems to teach our young — and their parents — that all things scholastic have meaning understood only in the language of business, government or professional sports. Rather, learning should be the mastery of detail; the acquaintance with concepts; the spirit of inquiry; and the critical awareness of self, society, and the cosmos. Learning should be cherished as the fulfillment of human development. Through the presentation of this award, the faculty of Governor Dummer honors the intellectual growth and academic achievements of all its students.

Any ranking scholar must embody diligence along with intelligence. This year's scholar, to quote one master, "personifies that admirable combination." Meeting the challenges, conquering the setbacks, daring the exploration — this student has begun to engage the world of ideas. While striving for improvement in each arena, persistence has been the hallmark of a four-year career which gratifies all who teach. Not as wages of victory in competition, but as an emblem for the scholarship to which we hope all students aspire, it is an honor to award, on behalf of the entire faculty, the Thorndike Hilton Cup and Medal to

Anne Lawrence Cole

The Moody Kent Prizes

The Moody Kent Prizes are given to those students throughout the school for outstanding achievement in the various academic departments. No more than one award may be awarded to the same student.

The winner in ENGLISH is "a triple threat" because she is an accomplished writer, reader, and speaker. She combines high spirits with hard work, careful listening with forceful and effective argumentation. Her essays are polished, persuasive and lively.

Julie Ann Miller

One of the top performers in mathematics these past three years, his dedication and hard work made even the most difficult problem seem simple. This year he not only excelled in his course work, he spent much of his spare time helping others understand the concepts of mathematics at all levels. This year's recipient in MATHEMATICS is

Hyun Ri Shin

The recipient in HISTORY has delved deeply into the history curriculum of the Academy. An outstanding student, his understanding is profound, his insights perceptive, He is, indeed, the sophisticated student of history: knowledgeable, challenging, a delight to teach.

Christian Graham Zabriskie

Kristen Fowler

To the unaided eye, Supernova 1987A has now faded from the southern skies. However, last year's winner of the Bausch and Lomb Medal has continued to shine brightly in the study of science. She has a four-year record of breadth and depth with outstanding achievement in the study of physics, chemistry and biology. Those who have worked with her have grown with her - be they peer or teacher.

Deana Dimenica Giamette

This fifth-year honors student has demonstrated facility in the study of German language. She has developed an in-depth appreciation for German literature and has mastered the principles of literary analysis.

Paolo Josca

This fourth-year honors student has achieved an unusual level of oral and written proficiency in Spanish. He has worked diligently over the years and has enriched his classes by sharing his keen insights into literature.

Jon Michael Morisseau

From a struggling freshman in French I to the top student in Honors French IV, this student has shown consistent effort and has advanced to the expressing of his mature literary insights in concise, idiomatic French. For a Senior Spring-Project he read and studied 19th Century French novels.

Dianne Elizabeth Solomon

This fifth-year honors student has shown dedication and seriousness of purpose in her study of Latin. She has been a fine student who has found sincere enjoyment in the reading of the Classics and has made great strides in her translation skills.

Kendra Ellen Haynes

This artist is a student who has made laudable progress in the field of the arts. She has maintained honor grades throughout her Governor Dummer career. Further, she has exemplified all the attributes one looks for in the outstanding art student: hard work, patience, creativity, and the willingness to explore and to change.

Andrew Francis "Luke" Gilfeather

This charming student has practiced long and hard to earn the admiration of peers, faculty and the entire community. His practicing of scales and chord progressions has terrorized the occupants of both Thompson and his dormitory for years. He is the classic example of what progress can be had through effort, discipline and open-mindedness. We remember his singing Ray Charles' hit "It Should Have Been Me." And now it is!

Chante Renee Lampton

The care with which this student learns and shares knowledge gives occasion to celebrate the privilege and joy of teaching. In her, initial inspiration meets with disciplined study and the spoken word with a depth of listening that is known in her presence. With insight, respect, and care, this student pondered well the religions of the world.

The Ambrose Speaking Contest Prizes

The Third Prize

During his four-year stay, he has learned to speak out. We all listen to what he has to say because he has brought logic to his arguments and enthusiasm for his ideas. He is highly respected by peers and teachers.

Kursten Trevon Burns

The First Prize

He is imaginative, articulate, quick-witted, and able to turn a nice phrase. He has instructed us how to say good-bye, but we are glad that one need not say farewell to a neighbor — "See ya' later." is sufficient. He is the forerunner of a new generation of constructively involved young people.

Christian Graham Zabriskie

The Second Prize

She has a firm handshake, plenty of optimism, and strong opinions. She came to school looking for support and approval from her peers and teachers. She leaves us having discovered she stands tall on her own. She has expressed herself well with the spoken word as well as musically.

Jenny Orme Reynolds

Awarded to members of the Senior Class whose perseverance, courage, initiative, sense of responsibility, loyalty, and/or concern for others have contributed to the strength of the Academy.

Special Prizes

Reginald Walter Winston Edmonds

A leader — the president of the student body, an athlete, an actress, an enthusiast, a woman of action, a gift from Texas to the Academy. She came to us like a tornado and we will never be the same in the wake of her departure.

He has determination, dedication and maturity beyond his years. He cares and acts upon his caring. I hope he will be a teacher - he would be a great one.

Paul Douglas Whynott

Indefatigable is the focal word: she has searched out the greatest academic and athletic challenges offered at the Academy and has triumphed. Her voracious learning style is inspiring.

Julie Ann Miller

He has an inner soul which responds to those around him and actions that speak of excellence. One of his teachers commented, "A teacher seldom has the privilege of instructing and learning beside such a fine scholar."

Hyun Ri Shin

A diamond whose values are at the core of our nation's spine, or should be: he is industrious, energetic, curious and determined. Pride shows in all his actions.

Andrew B. Noel, III

She combines a sincere commitment to her school with a modest and personable approach. The seeming ease and graciousness of her manner conceal her perseverance.

Anne Lawrence Cole

She is not aware of what she contributes in her classes, to sports — particularly tennis — and to her charges when she coached. Her heart and her humility beguile.

He returned there his senior year for the winter term and continued his involvement with the boys three days a week during the Spring. The other two days he spent visiting and befriending a quadriplegic young man in his home in Beverly. Insightful, dedicated, loyal, compassionate —

Kendra Ellen Haynes

The Anne Marie Murphy Athletic Prize

To that senior girl who, by her example and her achievement in athletics, has brought greatest honor to her school during the past year. Lisa Annette Sweeney

The Goodwin Athletic Prize

Given to that senior boy who, by his athletic achievement and sportsmanship, has brought the greatest honor to his school during the past year. In football he unflinchingly stood up to the test at quarterback, fortunately enjoying some sweet victories in his final two years: In basketball he was given the tough defensive assignments on championship teams: In baseball on the way to all-league he provided clutch hits and some of the longest home runs ever seen on the way to the league record in home runs. A captain in all three sports.

John S. Khantzian

Heather Lynn Moore

The GDA Alumni Association Award

Habitually cheerful, spirited, genuinely curious, eager, deeply dedicated, enthusiastic and eternally positive. This student has shown continual concern through leadership in the Red Key Society, reliability on the Social Committee, influence as a French Building Proctor, and energetic contributions to the Milestone staff.

Heidi M. Danielson

The Gaffney Prize

Awarded to that senior who, in the opinion of the faculty, has been most considerate of the rights, opinions, and sensibilities of others.

From the direction of the Oxfam Fast to guiding the yearbook she has a presence which adds to her care for others. She lives the message of the Academy motto - Non Sebi, Sed Aliis.

Cynthia Knowles Draper

The Barriskill Prize

An example of a student who has discovered the real joy in learning. She has discovered that art is a science and science is an art. She has valiantly practiced, studied in several areas and become keenly aware of the interactions and correlations between not only different instruments and musical styles but also between all areas of study and life in general. From Bach to Mozart to the Manhattan Transfer she has done it all and done it all well.

Elizabeth Mauser Leary

The Mercer Art Award

She has been a dedicated and hardworking art student, having earned high honors in all the studio courses. She has been a member of the Art Club each year and was president of the club this year. She is always ready to lend an artistic hand when needed - in the gallery, decorating the hockey rink, preparing the Bradly Arts Festival, creating posters for the Dramatic Club, and as Co-Art Editor of The 1988 Milestone.

Jill Robin Goldman

The Thespian Award

She exemplifies what The International Thespian Society stands for, an organization founded to honor students connected with all aspects of theater. As president of the Student Chapter this year she has served as an inspiration to other thespians through her leadership and example. She has done it all as an actress, stage crew member, assistant director, producer and director of the spring play.

Faced with a seemingly impossible problem, he is always the one who, after some thought, points us towards a solution.

He takes charge as a stage manager and constantly cares for those around him.

He has carried five or more credits in each of his three years at Governor Dummer. He has earned "A+'s" in Accelerated Chemistry, Advanced Chemistry, and Accelerated Physics. To my infinite regret, he also plays an excellent hand of bridge.

He earns nothing but praise for his considerate approach to adacemic challenges, tech crew and running competition.

Adam Mathew Hampden Barton

The Brown University Book Award

Presented to a junior outstanding in the study of English. He thirsts to be listened to and read. In dispute, he is powerful, needling opponents with relentless logic and a puckish wit.

JOY OF EATING

The Grog changes with times

By COLLEEN SMACZNEGO

DAVID SPINK

The Grog just keeps getting better.

Or maybe it is simply that this Newburyport institution is so good at changing with the times.

Years ago it was the place, north of Boston, where the folkies came to hang out and try their new songs at weeknight hoots.

It was as much a loud bar and nightclub during the '70s as it was a restaurant, filled to the gills late at night with blue jeans and beards. Then, for a time, it was more of a dance club.

And now, while everything looks pretty much the same, The Grog has cleaned up its act a bit, right along with the aging blue jean crowd that has now gone into business.

No more is the live music on the main floor. The stage is gone, and the entertainment has been moved downstairs to a splendid, refurbished listening room that, instead of featuring every local with a guitar, brings in medium-level national names regularly.

And that makes the main level a quieter, and noticeably more upscale, dining room — rooms actually. There are three, loosely divided areas, each seating about 40. Things are still casual, with brick or wood on the walls and beams overhead, but there is carpet on some of the floor, and hanging brass lamps.

And there is a menu offering a substantial variety of quality food at moderate prices.

The Grog doesn't take reservations, but they weren't really necessary on a recent weekend evening when we arrived, fairly early, and were seated immediately in a room about three-quarters full.

This is a place to linger if you wish, or hurry if you wish. The menu says to "tell your waitperson" if you're in a hurry. We did, and she responded admirably.

But it would have been nice to take a bit more time over the different courses available.

The beverage menu offers a lavish mix of non-alcoholic juices or concoctions like shakes, floats and freezes. There are a couple of dozen mixed or blender variety drinks ranging from $2.45 to $3.65 (most on the high end). There are 10 Marguerita possibilities and a moderate wine list. A glass could be had for less than $3, a bottle for under $20 in most cases.

But our party of three dashed immediately to the appetizers, sampling a cup of Clam Chowder ($1.55) and Chicken Sates ($3.55).

They were both excellent. The stock in the chowder was a bit thinner than we like, but its flavor more than made up for that lack. It was hot, just a bit spicy, and loaded with fresh clams and potatoes. The chicken, first marinated in tamari, lemon juice and sherry and then barbecued just a bit, was tender and moist without being the least bit greasy. They went very quickly.

The menu also includes pub salads in the $2 to $5 range, several quiche possibilities for $4.75 to $5.75, and 14 sandwiches ranging from burgers to clubs to Mexican fajitas. All but one was less than $5.

But we had come for dinner, so we skipped to the full-course selections, which feature American standards like beef, seafood and poultry, but also a number of Cajun dishes (like we said, they have changed with the times), plus more than a dozen Mexican favorites.

We sampled the Broiled Sirloin ($9.95), the Lobster Pie ($9.95) and, from South of the Border, a Burrito ($5.75).

There was not a disappointment in the group. The steak came cooked as ordered, and was thick, tender, fresh and lightly seasoned. It is, of course, tough to wreck a quality steak unless you dry it out, and this one wasn't.

The lobster pie comes in drawn lemon butter with a crumb crust on top. It is easy, under those circumstances, for the topping to turn to mush. This remained light and crisp, however, nicely complementing a generous portion of seafood. Our only mild objection was that some of the pieces of meat were a trifle rubbery. Flavor was outstanding, however.

And the burrito, while it didn't match the quantity of those in the specialty houses, came very close on quality. There are a dozen fillings to choose from. We took chicken, and were delighted with the amount and flavor, mixed with shredded lettuce and tomato, topped with melted cheese and chives.

The Mexican dishes come with a choice of rice or refried beans. We chose rice, and found it flaky, hot and nicely done, although a bit bland.

With the other entrees is a choice of baked potato or rice, plus a garden salad. The potato came without foil wrapping, done through to the center. The salads are a bit better than standard, featuring obviously homemade dressing plus broccoli and ripe olives along with the standard onion, tomato, carrots, cucumbers and iceberg lettuce.

With a bit of room left for dessert, we tried homemade Cheesecake ($1.95) with strawberry topping (55 cents) and Frosted Carrot Cake ($1.95). Both were appropriately fresh and rich, although the carrot cake was the best of the two. The cheesecake was just a bit grainy.

The Grog also serves fresh Syrian bread along with dinner — another subtle upscale touch. It was fresh and tasty.

Our waitress was prompt and attentive. And we escaped for less than $50, tax and tip included. The Grog's reputation is well-deserved. It is a nice place to eat, to sit and talk, or to be entertained.

Here it is past November eight!
Last year's Milestone is surely late.
Whose to blame? Why the shame?
Who cares? The excuses are too lame.

It's done at last and gone its way.
It's up to publisher to save the day.
But before we close for sure,
There's one more thing to endure.

Thanks to those who worked so hard,
Who made commitments by the yard.
Your peers in Class of Eighty-eight
Missed the biggest shipment date.

Three cheers for those who follow
When some of us did naught but wallow.
Here's to the kids of Eighty-nine
Who finally brought the book on line.

Cindy spent her summer days
Yearbooking in so many ways.
Clearly this is done by no such bard
Special thanks go, however, to Mike Barad.
